The traditional village of Megève

Megève is a traditional Haute-Savoie village that cultivates the charm of a true radiant village, flourishing around its main medieval style square, with its old districts and narrow pedestrian only streets. Although it is often recognized for being the cradle of ski tourism, Megève is also a joy for nature enthusiasts. In summer, the village praises the untouched French Alps' beauty with many outdoor activities on offer. Golf practice, tennis courts, via ferrata, ice skating... Megève has a great infrastructure for sport enthusiasts. It also hosts Le Palais, the largest sports complex in the Alps; a must-see indoor facility with 11 different areas: aquatic, ice, climbing, fitness, well-being, and even a kids club.

The village is particularly family-friendly, with dedicated animations such as a four-season rail sledding, educational tours, outdoor exploratory games, and farm visits. Furthermore, it is a great place for food lovers with its impressive gastronomic scene (almost 90 restaurants), from traditional gourmet restaurants in the village to 3 Michelin star crowned restaurants. It is also filled with many art galleries, and numerous boutiques who will be happy to welcome guests after-hours for a very personal shopping experience.

Besides, the village offers many cultural activities that are accessible to all. Horse lovers can enjoy The International Jumping of Megève, where 350 amateur and professional riders of 20 different nationalities, accompanied by their 500 horses, will offer a magical show. Music aficionados can sway to the tunes of New Orleans at Summer Jazz Megève and the cycling fans will be excited to know that Megève is the finishing town for the tenth étape of the Tour de France. It is certain that these experiences will create memories that last a lifetime.
