✦ The best way to see all the temples of Angkor is from the sky in a hot-air balloon at sunset

Phum Baitang, Siem Reap

A stay here is all about visiting Angkor World Heritage Site with its hundreds of ancient Khmer temples, but the hotel is a destination in its own right, too. Phum Baitang means 'the green village', so you can expect lots of lush gardens and rice paddies surrounding your stilted villa. Inside reflects the rustic beauty of the grounds, and there's also a spa designed to look like a temple, while the hotel's two restaurants are sublime. Seven nights on a room-only basis in a Tervue Villa including international flights and private transfers from £1500pp, turquoiseholiday.co.uk
