New Year

SIX INTERIORS MOOD BOARDS FOR A TRANSFORMATIVE 2018
THE TONES, THE TEXTURES AND THE THEMES

We love the warm yet dramatic style that the guestrooms embrace. The mix of natural, earthy colours, used in the interior design scheme, combines a local sense of place while giving guests the relaxed feeling of being at home.

INSPIRING SPACE

An impressive façade is just a precursor to the well-thought-out and dramatic design scheme within this hotel's walls

1898 The Post is a hotel located in the Belgian city of Ghent. Facing the Graslei Canal, it's close to many of the city's main attractions. The hotel sits within the walls of the city's historic post office building. Designed by architect Louis Cloquet in collaboration with Stéphane Mortier for the 1913 World exhibition, the building is eclectic in style, with predominantly neo-Gothic and neo-Renaissance influences, echoing the beautiful façade of the Gildehuis der Vrije Schippers along the Graslei Canal.
