Your Spa Temple Journey

The mantra defining our spa is that we respect every culture, we value all customs, we embrace traditions, and we are pleased to offer you a collection of the finest, traditionally inspired spa treatments in Cambodia.

Our aim is to enhance the life and well-being of everyone who enters the Spa Temple at Phum Baitang.

The inspiration for our treatments is derived from the medieval splendor of the Khmer Empire. This started with the rule of King Rudravarman in A.D.500 to A.D.550; through the reign of the founder of the Khmer empire, Jayavarman II and the reigns of subsequent kings during the eight to twelfth centuries. The empire was Southeast Asia's largest at that time.

King Suryavarman II, the builder of the best known and best preserved religious temple "Angkor Wat" and his successor Jayavarman VII, the greatest Khmer ruler of all, revitalized the empire and witnessed a shifting of wealth for the Khmer elite. Cambodia, or Kampuchea in Khmer, derives from the Sanskrit word Kambuja or "Land of Peace and Prosperity"

During the Khmer Empire various kings built complex water systems to harness the erratic monsoon rains, thus providing for a stable rice harvest. Water played a vital role in early Cambodian culture just as it does today. It refreshed the body of the early Cambodian farmers and initiated the body's purification system to achieve the highest attainable state of wellbeing.

Our Spa Temple treatments always purify and rejuvenate your body. They embrace age-old healing techniques, beauty recipes that replicate ancient Cambodian beliefs, and cultural traditions with therapies designed to encompass mind, body and spirit. Experienced therapists, with well-honed skills in the modern day interpretation of treatments that have been handed down through the centuries, create a natural, relaxing and heartfelt spa encounter.

Upon arrival at the Spa Temple you will be welcomed with a selection of refreshing herbal beverages and fruits before commencing a personalized treatment that uses only the finest organic, indigenous ingredients to deliver outstanding and long lasting results.

There is only one truly sacred personal temple in this universe...
Your body.

It houses your mind, spirit and intelligence and we must nurture and care for it on a daily basis. In visiting our Spa Temple our sole aim is to take care of your personal temple.

The Khmer Empire

— Splendors Ritual

This ancient Khmer traditional treatment utilizes a centuries-old village recipe of warmed herbs and spices to increase blood circulation and ease aches and pains.

It consists of a refreshing and exotic aromatic blend of roots, herbs and spices ground in a mortar and pestle. Rose water, used as a skin toner, promotes healing and skin softening.

The crushed herb and spice mix is applied to the body as a mask, excluding the face and sensitive areas; then you are cocooned. You experience an all-over deep penetrating heat sensation that melts away your tension, muscle aches, headaches, arthritis and chills. This was a traditional treatment favoured by fishermen and farmers. The mask is left to work its magic while you enjoy a comforting scalp massage.

This treatment increases blood circulation and its exfoliating ingredients, cloves and rice, soften the skin.

A Khmer traditional “onkuin” seed oil massage concludes this signature ritual.

The Khmer Empire

— Baray Ritual

It's fun bathing in a green village! Inspired by the largest man-made lake of the ancient Khmer civilization.

Baray is a water reservoir built by the ancient Khmer people, it is a common element in the architectural style of the Khmer Empire of Southeast Asia. West Baray in the Angkor area is an artificial lake, the largest example of such a reservoir, and today, the only one that still holds water.

Native Cambodians use the baray and its nourishing channels for irrigation and transportation. With clear, still waters, the baray today is a popular place for bathing, swimming and boat rides by local residents.

Temple ruins at the splendid Angkor Wat provide a clue to there being a bath dedicated to healing, not just to relaxation. Water festivals originated at this time and the Khmer people going for walks during the festival days often enjoyed healing baths to refresh their mood and relieve tensions and troubles.

Your spa temple exotic bathing experience will be the most memorable one ever with a traditional body polishing cocoon; sloughing off dead skin cells. A soothing lotion massage compliments this spa journey.

The Angkor

— Temples Ritual

In the past hand-crushed spice would be applied on the legs of the rice farmers after a long day's work of standing in the water tending the rice paddies.

After your amazing Angkor temple explorations you will certainly be longing for just such a remedy. This is not just a foot and leg treatment but a special ritual that awakens your legs and body. Your treatment starts with an invigorating herbal foot soak with the gentle touch of flowers. Acupressure points and reflex zones of the feet are the main focus. Then a nurturing, warm herbal leg compress massage lulls you into a deep state of relaxation.

A mask of fresh crushed ginger, nutmeg and cloves is applied, cocoon-like, leaving the spices to warm and detoxify your skin. The delicious warmth of the spices heats the muscles and the joints, melting away tension. The spice mix acts as an exfoliator giving your skin a luminous appearance and silky feel.

A cooling application of fresh cucumber seals in moisture; you will be ready to walk that extra mile. Truly an ultimate foot and leg delight!

The Heritage Borei

— Angkor Ritual

It is not just a full body massage, but an ancient Khmer body care treatment you will love.

Borei Angkor means the City of Angkor, Borei is a City and Angkor is also a City; the Great City of the ancient Khmer Empire. Khmer people concurred to preserve and spread the Khmer culture, customs and traditions within the villages they created.

Herbs and fruits are used in various spa treatments and are named after a territory of Angkor. “Sothh Borei”, is a paste made from seasonal fruits, plant leaves or raw honey.

This skin beautifying massage technique was originated and conceived by Khmer rice farmers to preserve inner beauty while traditional massages and other body treatments enhance outer beauty.

After the exfoliating massage, you are cocooned and then rested; your skin is extremely nurtured and regenerated

Mango — king of fruits, for your skin
Chlorophyll — king of green, for skin detox
Coconut — deliciously moisturizing your skin
Aloe Vera — an after sun skin soother

Traditionally Inspired Massages of the World

Massage is a very ancient form of treatment, so ancient that its history is said to be as old as that of mankind.

It is a sacred belief that body and soul can be renewed through the healing power of human touch. Massage is far more than just a treatment that makes us feel good, it enhances our immune systems function and lowers the level of our stress hormones. Used for healing throughout history, cultures from all over the world have built upon this to develop varied styles of massage.

The Spa Temple incorporates those ancient massage traditions in a variety of treatments to nurture all your senses back to wellbeing. Treatments invigorate and relax, enrich your life, restoring health with an abundance of energy and joy for your body, mind and spirit.

The following treatments were selected and created with only one thing in mind – you. The emphasis is on balancing energy in the body.

You are almost certain to find a popular style that suits your body perfectly!

Touch of Cambodia

Khmer massage has its own unique history and tradition which has been practiced for hundreds of years.

The main technique of Khmer massage is a firm and strong kneading style and it focuses on energy lines. It makes use of passive stretching with gentle pressure along energy lines to relax the body, ease muscular and joint tension and balance the body's energy system. The therapist manipulates your body into different positions to help loosen it up, adjust skeletal structure and improve flexibility using different parts of their body to really work deep on those muscles. This leaves you feeling wonderfully relaxed, sleepy and blissed out.

A warm herbal compress filled with a selection of herbs and spices is then gently applied to specific points of the body and is combined with a massage to specifically work on knots. This induces deep relaxation while soothing aching muscle and stiff joints as well as relieving stress and fatigue. The massage boosts both emotional and physical well-being by assisting alignment and postural integrity of the body.

The blend of herbs has a relaxing and invigorating effect on the body and mind, soothing sore and overworked muscles while giving the body's energy reserves a huge boost.

Touch of China

Tui Na “push grasp” is an acupressure, oriental bodywork therapy that has been used in Chinese culture for over 2,000 years. It is one of the oldest forms of healing in the world.

A task-focused technique targeted towards healing and reducing pain, it seeks to establish a more harmonious energy flow throughout the body, allowing the body to heal itself naturally. Hand massage techniques promoting the revival of the soul and body with alternating kneading and pressure, releases tension, rebalances the body and harmonizes internal energies.

Acupressure is useful in relieving anxiety and improving sleep, thanks to the release of endorphins. It aids in balancing the body and improving the resistance to illness by promoting good health.

Chinese foot reflexology involves massaging and applying pressure to the reflex areas of the foot. It induces a regulating action on the corresponding body organ and results in the release of energy. It is very relaxing, especially for those who stand on their feet all day or just have tired, achy feet. It is an effective way of relieving tension and contributes to a feeling of well-being.

Touch of Japan

Shiatsu “finger pressure” massage is a method of healing where rhythmic finger, thumb, palm, elbow, knee and hand pressure is used on the meridian points of the body to improve energy flow, restore the natural powers of the body and regain balance for both preventative and improved health.

“Ki” represents the essence of life in Japanese culture. This energy flows to organs through specific pathways or meridians providing nourishment for the body mind and spirit.

The massage is relaxing yet with firm pressure application, gentle body manipulation and assisted stretching.

Shiatsu eliminates energy imbalances within the organ systems, clearing the path for energy flow. Massage focuses on pressure points, or “tsubos” that relate to different organs throughout the body. The pressure techniques stimulate and increase the potential of the healing powers of the body and these powers by themselves “choose” the right way to heal the body.

Reiki is a subtle and effective form of energy healing using life force energy for body, mind and spirit. It is ideal for clarity, peace of mind, boosting the immune system and in aiding better sleep.

Touch of Sweden

A “classic massage”, the leading and best known form of therapeutic massage developed in the 18th century in Sweden. One of the first truly global fusion styles of massage that uses gentle but firm pressure. The strokes are based on massage techniques from around the world. It can be light, slow and gentle or more vigorous depending on what is preferred. A full body massage that works on all major muscle groups in the body increasing one’s flexibility, stretching the ligaments and tendons, giving pain and tension relief and relaxing the muscles. It helps flush the body tissues of uric and lactic acid and other metabolic waste, improving overall health and wellness.

A dynamic therapy of long flowing effleurage strokes, kneading, rhythmic tapping, friction, compression and vibration. The movement increases lymph flow and is designed to invigorate stimulating blood flow to the heart and all throughout the body. Vibrational techniques encourage relaxation and improve muscle and nerve functions.

The deep tissue massage uses medium to strong vigorous kneading and cross fiber mobilization to work on trigger points. Deep thumb pushing techniques predominate, stimulating soft tissue and working deeply to ease muscle and joint pain by breaking down tensely knotted tissue.

Touch of Tibet

Tibetan massage has been practiced for thousands of years in Tibet and the Himalayan region of Asia. It is one of the oldest forms of massage found on earth.

The Tibetan KuNye “apply oil and pressure” massage creates harmony between the body and mind, promoting health and well-being by stimulating the energy points and channels within our body, using the hand. Sweet, soft scented Zathi-Dukpa herbal bags bathed in warm herbal infused oil are placed on different parts of the trunk, arms, legs and feet while the therapist’s hands work consistently, rubbing, kneading and stroking with deep circular motions to acupressure points. This technique reduces stress, balances energy flow to tissues and organs and enhances inner and outer well-being and quality of life.

Hot stone is an ancient and authentic system of healing, more than just a simple massage. It is a meditative experience that enhances spiritual growth and balances the physical, mental and emotional dimensions of life. The comforting heated smooth, flat stones are placed on key points on the body while heat relaxes the muscles and promotes temperature balance making this an excellent healing method.

Touch of India

Ayurveda, an ancient system of life “ayur” and knowledge “veda” believes that life is a combination of body, mind, senses, and spirit working on your supreme consciousness. An elemental, all powerful, all pervading, spiritual energy. A medical system and a philosophy originated around five thousand years ago focusing on balancing the body’s three main constitutional forces: the energy of movement “vata”, the energy of digestion “pitta” and the energy of structure “kapha”, to improve health and create harmony in life.

Ayurveda helps in general detoxification, relaxation, rejuvenation and enhances spiritual awareness. It uses vigorous massage on the specific energy points “chakras” with large quantities of warm oils and spices to remove toxins from the system, restoring balance to the body, soothing tense and strained muscles.

Abhyanga means “anointing”, based on balancing the doshas and is performed with herbs, spices and warm aromatic oils. The technique strengthens muscles, firms the skin, induces a great feeling of calm and encourages the body’s innate healing ability.

Shirodhara works on the head and promotes tremendous relaxation, a deep sense of inner peace and stress relief, as well as having powerful effects on the mind and nervous system.
