

Art sessions : Sculptural Ceramics, A tactile dialogue

With Zeljana Vidovic

“A tactile dialogue” is a gentle and inspiring two-hour ceramics art session for beginners, welcoming a small group in an intimate and relaxed setting. The art session begins outdoors, with a short exploration of the island to observe and gather natural elements from Bendor — limestone fragments, sand, bark, and sea-weathered textures. Back in the studio, after a brief introduction to the tools and basic techniques, participants begin working with clay. Guided step by step, they imprint and translate these textures into simple ceramic forms. The process focuses on a direct and sensory approach, exploring the relationship between natural elements and making.

The atmosphere is calm and creative, encouraging focus, exchange, and personal expression, and concludes with a refreshing drink.

Art sessions : Lavender Wand Creation

With Franc 1884

“Premiers Gestes” is a gentle and immersive two-hour art session introducing participants to the art of crafting lavender wands, traditionally woven with ribbons. Held in an intimate and relaxed setting, the experience begins with an introduction to the history and savoir-faire behind these fragrant objects. Participants are guided through a series of demonstrations, from rustic lavender wands to more refined ribbon-woven designs.

Each gesture is revealed step by step, highlighting both technique and material. Guests are then invited to create their own lavender wand, choosing their ribbon colors and exploring different weaving styles at their own pace. The art session encourages a sensory and creative experience, blending fragrance, craftsmanship, and personal expression.

The session concludes on a convivial note with a light refreshment offered by the hotel, a moment to share impressions and admire the creations made together.

Art sessions : Olfactory Narratives

With nysæ

“Olfactory Narratives” is a gentle and immersive two-hour art session that begins with an invitation to explore the island. Participants wander through the landscape, observing textures, shapes, and details, and selecting natural elements that resonates with them — a piece of tree bark, a flower, a stone, or another found fragment. Back in the studio, they learn how to coat their chosen subjects with earth, alginate or plaster, capturing their delicate forms and textures. Guided step by step, the imprints become the starting point for creating a new landscape, a decorative and design-led object. Each piece is shaped, refined, and brought to life in the art session, resulting in a unique creation that can stand alone or be framed.

The experience blends nature, material exploration, and craftsmanship, offering a moment of focus, creativity, and connection to the environment. The art session concludes with a shared exchange around a beverage offered by the hotel, and participants leave with the pieces they created during the session.

Art sessions : Illustration

With Laura's Palette

“Premiers Gestes” is a playful and expressive two-hour workshop inviting participants to explore the world of illustration through watercolor and gouache painting.

Guided by the artist, participants will experiment with colors, textures, layering, and brush techniques while creating their own illustrated compositions inspired by provided references, shapes, and artistic prompts.

Through a free and intuitive approach, everyone is encouraged to interpret the subjects in their own way — mixing colors, adding personal details, and letting imagination guide the process. There is no right or wrong result, only experimentation, spontaneity, and creative enjoyment.

The workshop is designed as a moment of artistic escape and discovery, encouraging participants to reconnect with a more instinctive and playful form of expression.

The session concludes in a warm and convivial atmosphere, with time to share creations, discuss techniques, and exchange impressions together.
